Articulo – Journal of Urban Research is a peer-reviewed online journal devoted to the exploration of urban issues.

The Journal embraces a multidisciplinary perspective on the transformation of social, environmental and economic issues of cities and city regions.

Publishing both theoretical and empirical articles, the Journal is an international forum that brings together academics and practitioners working on urban issues around the world to present ground breaking and relevant research.

AJUR is indexed by SCOPUS (Elsevier) and the French AERES since 2013.
