

Annexe 1. Évolution de la détermination du nom war au cours de la guerre du Golfe

Les citations ci-dessous sont en ordre chronologique, du 13 septembre 1990 au 25 janvier 1991.

Pendant la période de l'avant-guerre, war est évoqué au degré zéro de la détermination avec l'article zéro : 1-3, 5, 6 ; mais on voit apparaître le degré 1 avec l'article indéfini : 4, 7, 8, 10, 12 ; parallèlement à cette détermination par l'article on voit une détermination supplémentaire, un ancrage dans la réalité, avec l'emploi de Gulf (6, 9, 10).

La dépêche du tout premier jour de la guerre manque, mais celle du lendemain (910118, le 18 janvier 1991) montre l'apparition du degré 2 de la détermination, avec l'article défini. Pendant la période de la guerre et de l'après-guerre, on fait référence à cette guerre selon trois modes de détermination : 1) pré-détermination : the Gulf war ; 2) post-détermination : the war in the Gulf ; 3) auto-détermination par le contexte : the war (ce que Culioli appelle l'auto-fléchage).
