

INTERNATIONAL LABOUR ORGANIZATION

6th Annual Regulating Decent Work Conference

International Development Policy is pleased to present several papers from its 11th thematic issue on the International Labour Organization at the 6th annual Regulating Decent Work conference.

Tuesday 9 July 2019, 11:00 AM – 12:30 PM

INVITATION

Parallel Session 5.7

SPECIAL SESSION ON PROTECTING PEOPLE AND THE ILO AT WORK

THE ILO AT 100: TACKLING TODAY'S DILEMMAS AND TOMORROW'S CHALLENGES

PRESENTATION OF THE SPECIAL ISSUE

Abena Asomaning Antwi, University of Lille

→ Health Protection in Ghana and Senegal

Christine Verschuur, The Graduate Institute, Geneva

→ From the Centre to the Margins and Back Again: Women in Agriculture

Antonio Donini, Tufts University

→ Social Suffering and Structural Violence: Nepali Workers in Qatar

May Hermanus, University of the Witwatersrand

→ The Achievements and Limitations of Statutory and Non-Statutory Tripartism in South African Mining

Velibor Jakovleski, The Graduate Institute, Geneva

→ The ILO's Role in Global Governance: Limits and Potential

CHAIRS

Gilles Carbonnier, ICRC and The Graduate Institute, Geneva

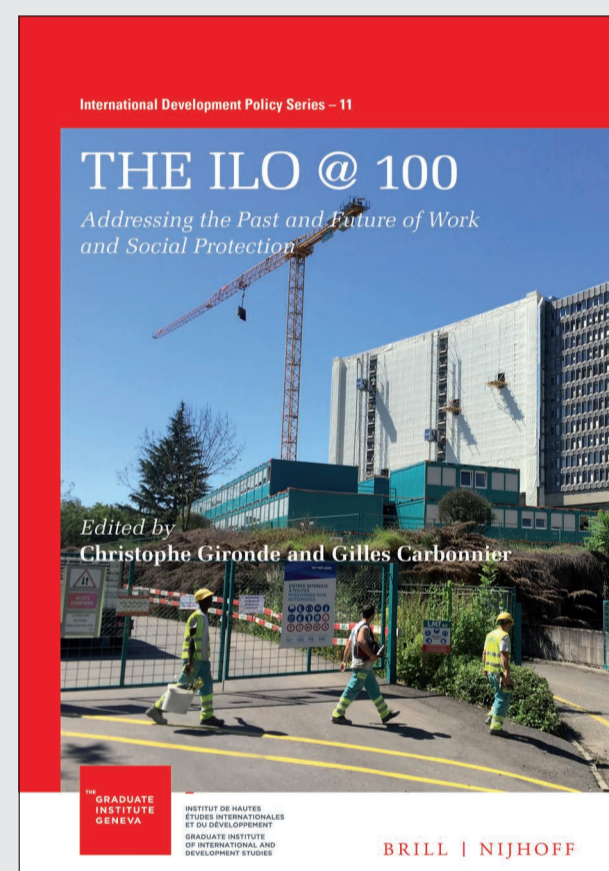

Christophe Gironde, The Graduate Institute, Geneva

DISCUSSANT

Sarah Cook, UNSW Institute for Global Development

Register at → www.conftool.org/rdw2019

Monday 8 July 2019, 2:30 PM

ILO Room III (R3 South)

Filipe Calvão, The Graduate Institute, Geneva, will present his article from this thematic edition at the RDW Conference

→ Working Futures: Automation and Digital Work in India

f facebook.com/DevPolJournal

twitter.com/DevPolJournal

→ www.devpol.org – Read in open access online

→ www.brill.com

→ <http://graduateinstitute.ch>